Summary

Web Developer | Web Designer | Frontend Developer#

Hello, I'm a web developer who is passionate about creating visually appealing yet easy-to-use websites. With extensive experience in HTML, CSS, Javascript, and js library like React js, I transform complex requirements into responsive and intuitive digital experiences. I also understand Backend as a Service and databases like MySQL to support comprehensive web development.

As a Frontend Developer, I combine beauty and usability to create web designs that are easy to understand and engaging. I am highly skilled in using Figma to ensure visually appealing interfaces that are also efficient and user-friendly. My designs aim to provide a smooth and satisfying user experience.
